There is something for "View of Seattle da Alki beach on the beach The residential area of West Seattle has two large management options that are worth the trip: a coastal path along the Alki beach and some panoramic trails in the Lincoln Park. Alki beach in Joe Block Park. The coastal path along the Alki beach is one of the most panoramic slopes of Seattle, with splendid views of the sound of Puget and the Seattle skyline. Overall, it is 3.0 miles from Alki Beach Park Park in Joe Block Park, which passes Luna Park, Boat Ramps, Vista Points. There are numerous restaurants on the waterfront in the area. The beach itself is declaby, even if the sand tends to be soft. Add-on: Schmitz Park. At just 0.2 miles in the hinterland, Schmitz Park has some wonderful and wooded paths. From 58th Street, cross Alki Park and join the Schmitz park in Alki Trail, which runs for 0.5 miles to Sw Hinds St. There are some additional trails in the park to explore. Lincoln Park. This multi-purpose park at West Seattle is a bluff-shaped nose on Puget Sound just north of the Fauntleroy ferry terminal. It is fantastic to run, with 4.6 miles of walking paths, 3.9 miles of cycle paths and several fields. In season, enjoy a post-run dive in the heated salt water pool! This map of the trails is a guide useful. The paved coastal path (# 1 on the map) is 1.1 miles. Numerous other routes in the hinterland are a combination of gravel paths through the woods and fields. You can run north of Lincoln Park on the Dr. beach, but the water views are blocked by houses.
